

Written In Bone

OWNER	SMITHSONIAN NATIONAL MUSEUM
Location	Smithsonian National Museum of Natural History Washington, DC
Project Value	$112,000.00
Completion date	March 2009
Major Challenge	Carefully and Safely installing electrical work during open business hours into a complicated exhibit including an exposed ceiling and floating walls
General Contractor	Hadley Entertainment New York
DESCRIPTION OF WORK
Installed architectural lighting including fiber optics, the exhibit featured an exposed ceiling and floating walls. The fixtures were carefully selected to ensure that the bones displayed were not damaged by the thermal intensity of the lamps. The wiring installation was carefully hidden to preserve the aesthetic nature of the exhibit, while enhancing the lighting effect.
WWW.JERICHARDS.COM	